Mary Frances Knight And Charles W. Eckler Chosen To Deliver Class Day Orations

MESSAGE TO OUR GRADUATES

When Mike DiSalle left Toledo for Washington to take over the price controller's job he reported that everyone in his home city was glad to see him go. Half were glad to see him move up the ladder to bigger things; the other half were glad to get rid of him!

Unlike the good people of Toledo, we of the faculty want to say to the graduates of 1951 that we are not happy to see you go. We have enjoyed your company, given you our best efforts, and have taken pleasure in your growth while under our tutelage. On the other hand we are pleased to see that you have reached the top rung of our section of the ladder. We have gone with you as far as we can, but sincerely hope that the knowledge, work-habits, and confidence that you have acquired will make your climb up the next section of life's ladder both smooth and rapid.

Your formal study may or may not stop on August 10, 1951, but the job of acquiring knowledge is just beginning. What you will learn from now on may come through observation, reading, conservation, experimentation, and mistakes, but it is with this continued growth that we are most concerned. It is this continued growth that will enable you to take your place along with the thousands of Bryant graduates

Selection Made By Faculty Based On Scholastic Standing, Speaking Ability

The Administration has announced that the class day speakers for 1951 are Charles Eckler and Mary Frances Knight. Selection was made on the basis of scholastic standing and speaking ability by a group of the Faculty.

Mary, who attended high school in her home town of Coventry, Rhode Island, is in the Executive Secretarial II curriculum here at Bryant. Her career at Bryant has been distinguished by an excellent scholastic record. She is a member of the Bryant Key Society; was a member of the Archway for two semesters, one semester of which she acted as managing editor; and has been working as a secretary here at the school. At present she works as a personal secretary to Miss Moulton and is doing stenographic work for Miss Meth.

Charlie is a personable young fellow who is in the BAII course. His home town is Putnam, Connecticut, where he attended high school. He comes to Bryant from Worcester Tech. He is married and has been holding a job in addition to attending classes. He was vice president of his class in his third semester and is a member of the Key Society.

Being selected as speakers for the class day program is an honor of which they both can be justly proud.

Gardam New Archway Head

Dave Gardam has been selected as the Editor-in-Chief of the ARCHWAY for the coming year. He has been chosen for his fine journalistic abilities, his dependability, and his ability to get along and work with people. For the past semester Dave has taken the full responsibility of the Sport's page. He has proved his capability by turning in fine, well-written stories and in meeting the deadline which is one of the most important factors in the production of any paper.

Dave comes to Bryant from Livingston, New Jersey. He is twenty-two and spent three years in the service of the Marines, two of those years overseas. He was part of the Second Marine Division that patrolled the European and Caribbean coastline after the war. Dave has been to nineteen foreign countries and ports. He was sent to Germany, France, Italy, North Africa, the Islands of Puerto Rico, Cuba, Bermuda, Jamaica, Panama, Malta, Gibraltar, and several others.

Dave, a natural leader, is the new President of Beta Iota Beta for the fall semester. He is on the Ledger staff. He excels both in scholarship and athletics. Dave played on the Championship B. I. B. basketball team last semester in the Intramural League. He not only plays but also umpires many of the softball games among the fraternities.

Now in his second semester, Dave has achieved what most of us cannot accomplish in four semesters, and he has been claimed by Bryant as one of her own.

New ARCHWAY Head

Editor-in-chief-elect for 1951-1952 is Dave Gardam, who has written ALONG THE SIDELINES column since last February, reported Bryant sports news for the Providence Journal, and served as a general trouble-shooter for the Archway.

To the Members of the Teacher-Training Division of the Graduating Class of 1951

May I commend each and every one of you upon the successful completion of four years of preparation for the teaching profession.

As you go from Bryant College to take up your life work, may I remind you, as I have done so frequently in the past, that you are entering the profession that can contribute most to the character and moral training of the citizens of tomorrow, upon whose shoulders will rest the destiny of our country and the preservation of our way of life.

Teaching is a big job. A good education and knowing how to teach are not enough. May I again remind you that you must get along with your associates, your students, and their parents. You must be kind at all times. You must never lose your sense of humor. Remember that a smile and a word of praise will go much further than a frown or a reprimand.

In your beginning job get your feet on the ground before you step forward. As you organize the learning of your students remember that the development of proper attitudes and understandings is of prime importance. You must forever bear in mind that the subject matter you teach is only as important as the contribution that the subject matter makes in preparing your students for successful living.

Donoghue New Newman Club Leader

On the evening of Wednesday, June 6, the Newman Club held its elections for new officers. New officers are Jack Donoghue, president; Joyce Sullivan, treasurer. Old officers continuing in office are Mary Shea, vice president, and Ann Dowling, secretary.

A new office was created and put into the constitution, that of Historian. Elected as the Newman Club's first Historian was Joseph Cianci, who is also in charge of publicity for the Newman Club. The retiring officers, Sal Julian, president, and Bob Chase, treasurer, will graduate this year.

In addition to the election of officers, two new honorary members were unanimously voted into the Newman Club. They are Sister Mary Helen Harvey and Sister Margaret Rosita Kenny. Both will graduate from Bryant this year.

On June 27 the Newman Club held its last meeting in the form of a picnic. It was held at the Johnston Memorial Park where the members enjoyed swimming, ballplaying, and delicious refreshments.

IMPORTANT NEWS!

Bill Connor has announced that he and his wife, Toppie, are the proud parents of a baby boy. The new heir, David Michael, arrived on May 21, weighing eight pounds and eight ounces.

Bill is the former Student Activities Director of Bryant College. He worked in the interests of both faculty and students and was very popular.

Last year, Bill was called back into the military service. He is now stationed in Austria, where one of his duties is teaching English.

State C. I. O. Head Addresses A & F Society

One hundred and three members and guests of the Accounting Society of Bryant College convened at 7:00 P. M., on June 28 at Johnson's Hummocks Grill for the Society's final meeting of the spring semester.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Frank Benti, president of Rhode Island C.I.O., who spoke on the topic of "The Labor Unions' Role in the Community."

Mr. Benti stressed the importance of organized labor in bringing about marked progress in social advancement of the lower income groups through increased benefits from shorter hours, minimum wages, unemployment compensation, and numerous other workmen's benefits.

Mr. Benti also stressed the point that organized labor is not opposed to technological advancement in industry and the replacement of labor by machinery.

He stated that the union should be asked by management to assist in the planning of these changes so that a minimum number of people be unemployed by the changeover. After his speech Mr. Benti answered questions from the group.

Other guests of the society included Mr. Roffee of the Providence Base Works, who recently spoke to the Society on "Cost Accounting and Budgetary Control," Dean and Mrs. Lambert, Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs, Mr. Henry Cruickshank, and Mr. Henry Lee, of the College faculty.

Well Attended Banquet

Many turned out for an excellent dinner at Johnson's Hummocks Grill and a stirring speech by Local CIO leader when the A and F Society held its final meeting for the current year.

Fellowship Awarded To Prof. H. D. Myrick

Professor Harrison D. Myrick has been granted a fellowship by the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc. Its purpose is to enable him to make a practical study in the field of Personnel Management. This will enable him to bring actual business practices into his classroom teaching.

This year more than 260 people applied for fellowships out of which there were 90 granted. Selection was made upon the basis of a letter explaining why the grant is needed and how it will be used. Recommendations must be obtained from the presidents of all the colleges the applicant has attended or worked with.

Prof. Harrison D. Myrick

Three years of research and effort were spent by Professor Myrick on the best way to do this work if granted. In working on the project he will study the personnel techniques employed by the Insurance Company of North America. This company is noted for having one of the oldest and best established employee training programs in the country.

The fellowship is financed by the company sponsoring the project but selection is made by the foundation itself, thus insuring complete impartiality of selection and in the work being done.

Visual Merchandising Students To Visit Boston Jordan Marsh Store On July 18

On July 18, the Visual Merchandising class, under the supervision of Professor Harrison Myrick, will visit the Jordan Marsh department store in Boston.

This major field trip is the final phase of the Visual Merchandising course which will have covered outdoor advertising, window display, store layout and modernization, point-of-purchase display, and manufacturers' aids to better merchandising.

Although all types of stores are studied and reported upon during the course, the department store is selected for the field trip visit because every type of store is represented in this type of retail outlet.

At Jordan Marsh, the sales promotion head will explain everything the store does to promote sales; the store architect will discuss behind-the-scenes sales promotion. On this field trip, members of the class will actually see and experience the many principles taught in the class and will become acquainted with many of the visual merchandising policies carried on by a large department store.

In conjunction with the Visual Merchandising course, several speakers prominent in the field have addressed the group from time to time. As each phase of the course was taken up, the speakers were selected because they were prominent specialists.

During the past few weeks, the Visual Merchandising class has had Edwin G. Dimling, Store Planning Consultant for Associated Merchandising Corp., who spoke on "Modern Sales Planning"; Walter J. Ash, Vice-President, Consolidated Lithographing Corp., Brooklyn, N. Y., who chose as his topic, "Point-of-Purchase Display Units"; James Jordan, California Fruit Growers Association, who used "Fruit and Vegetables Merchandising," a film, for his presentation; David Jones, N. E. Divisional Manager, Johnson & Johnson, Inc., who utilized a film, "Drug Store Merchandising"; and Orrin Spellman, Advertising and Promotion Manager, HOLIDAY Magazine, who chose as his address "National Advertising."

Stearns, '51, Doing Graduate Work At Univ. Of Mass.

Robert D. Stearns, class of 1950, is studying for his master's degree in economics at the University of Massachusetts. Mr. Stearns entered school last fall, and at the present time has completed the required course work, and will have met all the requirements for the master's degree after completion of his thesis.

Mr. Stearns reports in a recent letter to Dean Gulski that he was required to take only two non-credit courses to meet the entrance requirements for work in economics. Since these courses are required of all undergraduate majors in economics, Mr. Stearns says that he was given the same status as students from regular four-year colleges.

Editorial

For those high school graduates who face future military service and want a college education, Bryant College is the solution. For many years Bryant has offered a two-year accelerated course of study leading to a bachelor's degree.

Although the draft age has been lowered to eighteen and one-half, no person shall be inducted into the Armed Forces so long as there are men available between the ages of nineteen and twenty-six for induction. Thus, Bryant College has much to offer to the high school graduate prior to his induction.

Those in the seventeen-year-old group can definitely complete their education at Bryant before being inducted. Those in the eighteen-year-old group also have an excellent opportunity to complete their education prior to being called into military service. By entering college in September 1951, the eighteen-year-old high school graduate is automatically deferred for the school year, after which he is required to take the Selective Service Qualification Test for further deferment.

This means much to the high school graduate. First, armed with a degree, the high school graduate will be in a better position for advancement in the military service, and when discharged, he will have completed his college education and can begin a career in business.

in the upper ranks of business, government, and the professions.

We of the faculty look forward to meeting you and shaking your hands on the many future occasions as we gather with business and professional leaders of our country. Our wish for every one of you is that you may have every success and that we may be allowed to bask in the reflection of your attainments.

Dean Mercier's Message (Continued)

Whether you have become a teacher by desire or by circumstance, give your best to your work. We will rejoice with you in your success and will be ready to help you with your problems if you need us. God be with you in preparing our youth for successful living.

To the Members of the Secretarial Division of the Graduating Class of 1951

May I commend each and every one of you upon the successful completion of your secretarial training.

You have acquired the knowledges and skills necessary to secure a position. What you do with these knowledges and skills depends upon you. It is now up to you whether you succeed and move ahead on the job. Make it a practice to think. Remember that doing without thinking does not usually produce acceptable results.

Ability to get along with people coupled with the knack of getting things done right and on time will go a long way toward enabling you to move ahead on the job.

May the career you have selected prove to be a happy one. Remember that your successes are our successes and your failures are our failures. Good luck to all of you.

Along the Side Lines

By DAVE GARDAM

Tennis Tourney

On Saturday June 23 at the Agawam Hunt Club, Bryant's own court star Herb Haft played his first match of the Rhode Island Junior Davis Cup Tournament. Herb had the misfortune of being paired with Jules Cohen, defending champion of the Junior Division, and after a well-played set was defeated 6-4. Although Haft went on to win several games, the rains came and washed out the day's proceedings. Thus the finals of this annual event are yet to be played.

The Curtain Falls

This edition of "Along the Sidelines" brings to a close the sports season of 1951. Our various varsity teams had better than average records. The basketball team finished the court campaign with a fine record of 16 wins against five defeats, to cop second place in the Southern New England Coastal Conference. The tennis team was victorious in seven of nine tilts including five shutouts. After a heartening performance in the Penn Relays, the flying spikes of the track team carried them to three victories and only one defeat.

The Rugmakers of Beta Iota Beta won 19 straight games in the Men's Intramural League. They then faced the Newman Club, winner of the night league, in a playoff series. The Ruggies took two consecutive encounters and with them the title. This left the men of BIB with a record-breaking record of 23 straight victories.

The softball league is currently in a state of utter confusion, with three teams all boasting identical records and tied for first place. This leaves the issue to be settled by the impending playoffs, to decide the champion from among the Tau Epsilon Hawks, the Beta Iota Beta Rugmakers, and Phi Sigma Nu. The improved play of Chi Gamma Iota gives the "Giant Killers" an outside chance.

And so this winds it up until September—when again the Indian athletes will take to the warpath in quest of still greater achievements.

V. A. News Summary

The Veterans Administration announced on June 27 that disabled veterans recently separated from service may be eligible for a new type of Government Life insurance as a result of a law especially enacted for their benefit.

The present Congress authorized this insurance by Public Law 23, to provide special coverage up to $10,000 for certain disabled veterans.

Four basic requirements are established by law for veterans to qualify for this insurance. They are:

- (1) The veterans must have been disabled in active service or under the special conditions specified in the Act.
  - (2) The veterans must have been separated from such service on or after April 25, 1951, under other than dishonorable conditions.
  - (3) VA must find that the veterans are suffering from disabilities for which VA compensation would be payable if ten percent or more in degree.
  - (4) VA also must find that, because of these disabilities, the veterans would not be insurable under the good health standards of National Service Life Insurance.
- Under these conditions the law covers many groups who were in active service or special types of service on and after June 27, 1950, and who were separated on and after April 25, 1951. These groups are:
- (1) Those who served in the active service of Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard.
  - (2) The reserve components of these branches of the armed forces, including the National Guard when called or ordered to active duty or active training duty for fourteen days or more.

(3) Cadets and midshipmen at the United States Military, Naval, and Coast Guard Academies.

(4) Commissioned officers of the Public Health Service and of the Coast and Geodetic Survey while assigned to certain specified duties.

(5) Reserve components of the armed forces, including the National Guard, while engaged in aerial flights in Government-owned or leased aircraft for any period, with or without pay as an incident to their military or naval training.

All of these groups may apply for the new insurance within one year from the date that VA finds their disabilities to be service-connected.

The law also includes those personnel who were disabled on their way to report for induction or for active military service on and after June 27, 1950, and were separated or otherwise released from further military service on and after April 25, 1951.

All of the foregoing groups may apply for any plan of National Service Life Insurance, term or permanent, with certain differences from the regular NSLI contracts. Contact the nearest VA office for complete details.

The Veterans Administration also announced that Thursday, June 28, 1951, was the deadline for application for and adjudication of claims for cars for disabled veterans of World War II.

Beginning July 2, 1951, veterans taking courses in trade and industrial schools must go to class at least thirty hours a week if they are to be considered full-time students under the GI Bill. Only full-time students are entitled to full rates of subsistence pay, which range from $75 to $120 a month.

Veterans affected by the law's new attendance requirements are

Nelson Leads Hawks In Victory Over Owls

Al Nelson and his Tau Epsilon Hawks were just too much for their night league brothers, the Owls, as the chunky right hander hurled Bryant's first no-hit, no-run game, on June 26, at Bryant Field.

Nelson was never pressed, despite a knee injury sustained sliding in the second inning. Al's mates hammered out 29 hits for 35 runs. Daley's shortstopping for the Owls was outstanding.

Whiffer Betts of Alpha Theta Chi provided the winning inspiration as his brilliant 5 hit pitching baffled the BIB Comets to the tune of 8-3.

Nine runs in the first inning were too much for the Newman Club as Phi Sig cut their rally short, winning 12-7.

Bielawa's home run to deep left in the 4th inning provided the winning spark, as the Newman Club came from behind to BIB's Rugmakers continued their winning ways, hammering the Newman Club 19-5. A ten run first inning insured the victory.

The hard hitting Phi Sig team showed no mercy with Beta Sigma Chi's yellow and blue, handing out an 18-7 slaughtering.

only those in below-college-level trade and technical courses where shop practice forms an integral part of their daily activities. Examples would be courses in automobile repair, machine-shop operations and the like.

In cases veterans continue to attend such courses for 25 hours a week, VA said, they now will be considered to be in school three-quarters of the time rather than full-time and will receive no more than three-quarters of the GI subsistence rates.

The new thirty-hour week, which applies only to courses where shop practice is necessary, need not consist of straight training, for the law makes allowances for a 30-minute rest period each day.

The marked decrease in the number of veterans requesting service at the Woonsocket VA Office will result in a curtailment of contact service on Mondays effective August, 1951.

Beginning August 3, 1951, contact service will be available each Friday for veterans and their dependents at the Army Recruiting Headquarters, Post Office Building, Woonsocket, between 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Should you desire more detailed information on Veteran Affairs, visit your local VA Office.

PSN And SIC Hold Moonstone Beach Party

Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity gave their sister sorority, Sigma Iota Chi, a beach party on Wednesday, July 4, 1951, at Moonstone Beach, R. I.

The beach party consisted of such things as sand, beer, hot dogs, soft drinks, more sand, water, and the various other items that make a beach party a success. The sun was out most of the day, and the water, while a bit chilly, was nice enough to entice practically everyone in for a swim.

Two of Phi Sigma Nu's Faculty Advisers, Mr. Lee Weaver and his family and Mr. Robert Belanger, attended the party.

Beach Parties keep Bryant students not only in the social swim during the summer months, but also at the shore resorts, where they may dive into the surf, sun tan, guzzle tonic, and munch hamburgers and hot dogs to their heart's content.

BIB, SIB Party

On Sunday, July 1, BIB and their sister sorority SIB, held their annual beach party at Horseneck Beach. Although stormy weather threatened to postpone the event, Old Man Weather came through with enough sunshine to turn the beach party into another very successful affair.

The party featured sports, lounging around on the beach, and of course Rhode Island's most consumed beverage. The boys weren't the only active participants in the athletics, and one particular fair damsel gave the fellows plenty of exercise chasing her long drives.

The day ended much too soon and everyone went home feeling that his time had been well spent.

Tau Epsilon Has July 4 Beach Party

East Beach on July 4 was the scene of the Tau Epsilon beach party.

Everyone left the Archway in a caravan and arrived at East Beach safely. A tent was pitched, refreshments cooled, a charcoal fire started, a navy life raft inflated, and the day's activities were started.

Football, sunburn, and the surf made it necessary for the opening of a sick-bay to administer first aid.

At 7 o'clock everyone adjourned to the reservation across the road for fresh-water swimming, fire works, and dancing under the stars.

A good time was had by all.

Four Greek Letter Groups Combine To Stage Gay Outing

The day was Sunday, June 24. The place was Moonstone Beach, Matunuck. The scene was a thoroughly enjoyable beach party sponsored by Kappa Tau, Phi Upsilon, Alpha Phi Kappa, and Chi Gamma Iota.

The weather was perfect for the occasion. At one o'clock, approximately sixty people with eleven cars met near the Archway and then started on the pleasant journey.

There was more than enough food for the hungry, and the standard beverage of Bryant was plentiful. Some of the boys played softball while the girls tanned themselves.

Swimming was enjoyed almost until the party broke up at eight o'clock.

A gay time was had by all.

The loveliest night of the year was Saturday, June 23. The place, the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel; the time, nine to one o'clock; the occasion, The Greek Letter Formal.

The Greek Letter Formal has always been considered one of the biggest events of the school year, and this year's was no exception.

Approximately two hundred couples danced to the sweet music of Ben Paris and his orchestra. Pretty smiling girls in soft, swirling gowns with laughing, sun-tanned boys in tuxedos happily danced the night into morning.

Tony Neves, president of the Greek Letter Council, and his escort formed the reception committee.

Many members of the faculty were seen enjoying themselves as much as the students. Punch was served in the room adjoining the main ballroom.

Many of the fraternities had rooms on the mezzanine. Parties were in progress and music was everywhere.

The Administration has commended the participating organizations on the fine behavior and excellent cooperation shown throughout the entire evening.

ATTENTION, SENIORS!

Starting on Monday, July 16, and continuing through Graduation Day, August 10, the Bryant College "Ledger," will be available to all seniors, including the February graduating class.

Don't forget to go to the student activities office for your copy.

Warren Tillinghast Heads Rhode Island Credit Association

Mr. Warren Tillinghast, class of 1933, has been elected president of the Rhode Island Association of Credit Men.

Not only is Mr. Tillinghast a Bryant alumnus, but he also served as Bursar here at Bryant from 1936 to 1942. In 1943 he became associated with the Providence Paper Company.

In the fall of that year he was appointed comptroller and credit manager of that firm, the position he now holds.

As a student at Bryant College, Mr. Tillinghast participated in many activities and was a member of Tau Epsilon Fraternity.

CG And Phi U Sponsor Outing For Local Children

Chi Gamma Iota fraternity and its sister sorority, Phi Upsilon, recently sponsored an outing for Dr. Patrick O'Rourke's underprivileged Children's Center of Rhode Island.

The outing, held at Goddard Park on July 7, was a great success with the children participating in such games as tug-of-war, sack races, relay races, and scavenger hunts. Prizes and favors were distributed to all the children.

There were hot dogs galore, soda pop, and other refreshments served. It was very heart warming to see these children enjoying themselves for a day.

Ex-president, Tony Neves, and present president, Ed Robinson, made this outing possible. The Coca-Cola Company, Life Baking Company, The Browning Bottling Company, Armour Meat Company, and the Catholic Youth Organization, contributed to the success of the outing by donating refreshments.

2. What are the varied duties expected of a medical stenographer in hospital work?

3. What would you consider a "typical day at work" for a medical stenographer?

4. What reference books should she be acquainted with?

At this time a medical stenographer employed at the hospital spoke to the students and told what she considered was a typical work day at the hospital.

As the students left the hospital after their two-hour visit, they thanked Mr. Bieter, Mr. Hughes, and Miss Jomini for a most interesting and instructive afternoon.

These students went on the field trip to Rhode Island Hospital: Rita Zielinski, Lorraine Holmes, Nina Dobry, Patricia Brenckle, Julia Manfredi, Joan Walton, Betty Crouse, Patricia Lee, Eunice Lowney, Mildred Perkins, Marie Altamura, Joan Nicholas, Adele Pobirs, Pauline Moreau, Joan Leach.

Secretarial Students Tour Rhode Island Hospital

On Wednesday, June 27, three cars filled with students of the medical terminology class left the Bryant campus for a field trip to the Rhode Island Hospital.

Upon their arrival they were met by their host, Mr.

Jerome T. Bieter, Administrative Assistant to Mr. Oliver P. Pratt, Executive Director of the Hospital.

After giving the students a history of the hospital in the seminar room, Mr. Bieter, with the aid of Mr. Hughes, Director of Public Relations and Personnel, took the students on a one-hour tour of the hospital.

The tour included children's men's, and women's wards and units; the doctors' residences; x-ray department; the blood bank; physical and occupational therapy rooms; the record library; the accident room; the drug store, and the operating rooms.

After walking for "miles" around Rhode Island's largest hospital, the Bryant students were taken to a classroom where Miss Jomini, Head of the Medical Records Department, spoke to the students. During her lecture she answered the following questions:

1. What part does the medical stenographer play in the processing of a patient through your hospital?

Senate Ends Year With Banquet At Country House

On Thursday evening, July 5, the Student Senate finished the year with a very successful banquet at the Country House in Cranston. The dinner consisted of a very elaborate smorgasbord—chicken livers, Swedish meat balls, turkey, ham, potato salad, and the works.

Elmer C. Wilber, Dean of Admissions, was the principal speaker. The text of the speech was "Attitude Toward Life."

Other faculty members present were Mrs. Laurelle Love, Dean Nelson Galski, Dean Lionel Mercier, Mr. E. Gardner Jacobs, and Mr. Robert Bellanger.

The Senate was commended on their good work and cooperation with the administration. Members of the Senate anticipate the same cooperation from the new Senators.
